

First Day in Y.M.C.A. Drive Nets $4,808.50

Subscriptions Range from $10 to $1,000—Challenge Cup Won by Henry B. Wesley's Team, and Division Honors Go to Chester A. Baltz's Booster Division.

The first day's work in the Y. M. C. A. Advance Program Campaign netted a total of 179 pledges amounting to $4,808.50. This is the amount reported at a very enthusiastic meeting of the organization Monday night. Subscriptions turned in ranged in amounts from ten dollars to one thousand dollars. "Our first report," said Mr. Ramsey, "gave us a running start on this $25,000 marathon. The workers are digging in and the whole works are full of pep and purpose. Every man is determined that his battling average will be in keeping with big league records. This great organization cannot be stopped until it reaches its goal and more."

"We can win this campaign but we must work and we must get a large number of friends to subscribe in liberal amounts."

Team 10 won the Spizzierinkum Challenge Cup by turning in the largest report. Team 11 was close on their heels. They declare that they will get the cup tonight. Captain R. L. Marchant and Team No. 4 also hope to be winners tonight. The members of Team 10 are: H. B. Wesley, captain, Dwight McEntee, Rufus D. Kelder, Egbert H. Schultz, Albert B. Katz, Lewis Brown, Edsl Flowers and Fred Schoonmaker.

Business Men Interested.

Sam Watts, member of the executive committee, encouraged everybody by a brief and forceful speech. He spoke as a business man interested in the Y. M. C. A. He said this campaign must not fail. The "Y" under the leadership of Charles Ramsey, the directors and General Secretary Porter is well managed. Every dollar will be put to its proper use. The community is entirely safe in turning over to the Y. M. C. A. this money. He praised the Y. M. C. A. for the splendid influence of the boys' work. He said as it does with the character building of boys in the Y. M. C. A. is an indispensable necessity in our city, not a luxury.

MAKE RAPID PROGRESS IN TEARING DOWN BUILDING.

The work of demolishing the three-story brick building formerly occupied by the Fairbank department store, to make room for the new bank building to be erected by the Hamilton Savings Bank, is proceeding rapidly. The two upper floors have been torn down and the workmen in the employ of the W. H. Jones Company, Inc., are now demolishing the lower floor.

Photographs taken during the demolition of the building at 1493 by Corning House of Main street are being taken by the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of showing the progress of the work. The scenes are in the main of the building and show a vast extent of work. The building is surrounded by several

Jury Chosen in Kerrick Murder

Three Are Expected to be Freed in Order That State May Have Testimony Against Mrs. Kerrick and Henry Isabell.

Los Angeles, May 17 (AP).—Efforts to prove that Tom (Two Gun) Kerrick, cowboy of the films, was shot to death in "cold blood" instead of being the unexpected victim of Hollywood's wildest drinking bout, occupied the state's attorney today.

The course of the prosecution, which is holding a charge of murder over the heads of five film folk, including Kerrick's widow, Mrs. Sarah Kerrick, became evident after a jury of nine women and three men was selected yesterday. State's attorneys announced they would sanction dismissal of the charge against three of the five in their attempt to fasten guilt upon the remaining two—Mrs. Kerrick and Henry Isabell.

Those who still remain accused but who are expected to be freed in order that the state may have their testimony against Mrs. Kerrick and Isabell are Joe Hunt, Arizona cowboy; Miss Iris Burns and Miss Anita Davis, all motion picture extras.

Joe Kerrick, brother of the slain actor, testified that Miss Davis told him that "Tom Kerrick was shot down in cold blood, and I know who did it. Later on I will tell."

The question of who was responsible for the killing featured the preliminary investigations, because police said the quietest had consumed so much liquor that they were unable to think and speak clearly for three days after the party.

Joe Kerrick also testified that Mrs. Kerrick had said "We all three had hold of the gun." He did not say to whom she referred other than herself. She has maintained that the gun was accidentally discharged but admits that it was in her hand when fired.

Tinney Suffers Second Collapse

Chicago, May 17 (AP).—Mistfortune's lash, no stranger to Frank Tinney, the blackface comedian, has fallen upon him again.

Tinney today was under physician's care after a collapse suffered on the floor of the Club Bagdad, a cabaret where he was attempting a comeback after months of illness. More than 1,000 patrons of the night club saw the comedian appear during the last of his four appearances of the evening, and saw other entertainers help him from the floor. Doctors found him in a state of collapse in his dressing room.

He was taken to his apartment and doctors remained with him throughout the night. It was understood that the comedian's condition was such that he would be taken back to New York as soon as he was able to make the journey.

It was Tinney's second collapse within a year. While playing at Detroit in Earl Carroll's "Vanities" last fall Tinney broke down and was at the point of death in a Detroit hospital for several weeks.

Friends of the comedian considered Tinney's anxiety over his night club debut after long months of illness as a possible cause of his breakdown. They said that in none of his four appearances during the evening was he anything like the Tinney of old.

Admits Killing At Howe's Cave

Cobleskill, N. Y., May 17 (AP).—

William Haupt of Howe's Cave confessed early today to killing Edward Wilkinson at Howe's Cave on Saturday night. It was announced today by District Attorney Sharon J. Maugh.

Haupt had been held by the police since Sunday and was subjected to persistent questioning throughout last night.

According to the district attorney, Haupt said that he and Wilkinson had a fight Saturday night when Wilkinson and Mrs. Haupt returned from a trip to Cobleskill. Haupt said the officers that during the struggle a pistol fell from Wilkinson's pocket which Haupt later grabbed and fired.

The fight was due to Haupt's objections to the friendship between his wife and the slain man.

Haupt was to be arraigned at Schoharie later in the day.

Main Levee at Melville Breaks, Residents Flee

Confidence Expressed That 1,028 Inhabitants Escaped—Scenes Described as Dreadful Following the Break—Relief Trains Stand By.

Baton Rouge, La., May 17 (AP).—Reports that the main levee at Melville, La., on the west bank of the Atchafalaya river, broke today and that the residents were forced to flee were received here today. The information came from a telephone operator at Melville, who stated that virtually everything in the town was destroyed.

Melville lies about 130 miles northwest of New Orleans and is on the opposite side of the river from the Crescent city, and is 45 miles north-west of Baton Rouge.

The levee was from 15 to 18 feet high and John M. Parker, state flood director, was advised that two hours after the break, which came about 6 a. m., the crevasse had widened to 800 feet. Confidence was expressed here that no lives had been lost as most of the 1,028 inhabitants of Melville had sought refuge on the levees. Two relief trains of the Texas and Pacific Railroad were reported standing by to remove the flood victims.

Describes Scene.

The scene that followed the break was described by The Associated Press by Mrs. Julia MacNeill, wife of a Melville druggist. She was the first to escape from the town. Everyone was aroused by shots fired by the levee guards and rushed from their homes in night clothes, Mrs. MacNeill said.

"They immediately scrambled up on the levees where they waited for the rescue boats. They have absolutely nothing, most of them did not have time to get any clothes," Mrs. MacNeill continued.

"The waters rushed through the break with a roar and swept away nearby houses from their foundations, lifting them up and tossing away the boards and heavy timbers like feathers. Intermingled with the roar of the waters could be heard the screams of the women and children."

"They sat on the levees on the river bank crying and shivering, it was dreadful."

Although in a state of nervous tension from her experiences Mrs. MacNeill went to former Governor Parker, begging him to send boats at once to rescue the people.

"The shots may not have aroused everyone—I don't know," she added. "I am afraid that people whose homes were near the crevasse may have lost their lives."

WILKINS WILL AGAIN ATTEMPT ARCTIC TRIP

Fairbanks, Alaska, May 17 (AP).—Captain George H. Wilkins has announced he will return to Point Barrow from Fairbanks in another attempt to explore the Arctic's "blind spot," probably late this week. He is preparing the Fokker plane "Alaskan" for the flight.

He flew here Saturday from Kotzebue after his latest attempt to pierce the ice waters, which ended in a forced landing and three weeks' wandering with his pilot, Carl B. Eielson, before they found safety in an Eskimo village.

This time the explorer plans to fly in a northeasterly direction from Point Barrow, over territory hitherto unseen by white men. He will be accompanied by Alger Graham as pilot, while Eielson is to remain in Fairbanks for treatment to one of his hands which was frosted while he was lost.

SUES CONGREGATIONAL PASTOR FOR $50,000

Washington, May 17 (AP).—The Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational Church, which President Coolidge attends, has been sued for $50,000 by Howard J. Cole, shipping board engineer, who charges libel.

The suit grew out of two letters which the Rev. Mr. Pierce is said to have sent to President Dalton of the shipping board demanding Cole's dismissal and which contained charges involving misconduct.

Cole contended the statements in the letter were false and malicious. Frank J. Hogan, counsel for the pastor, said he had been advised that Dr. Pierce's action "was entirely in line with his duties as a pastor."

PREMIER DE RIVERA NAMED KNIGHT OF GOLDEN FLEECES

Madrid, May 17 (AP).—Premier General Primo de Rivera became a knight of the Golden Fleece today, not willingly but on the insistence of King Alfonso. This most unusual honor was bestowed as part of today's celebration of Alfonso's forty-first birthday and the twenty-fifth anniversary of his coronation as king of Spain.

The premier told to persuade the monarch that he was unworthy of the knighthood, but Alfonso put him on the back, saying "although you do not want it, to me you are a knight of the Golden Fleece."

War Game Begun In New England

Sixteen Destroyers Steam Out of Narragansett Bay Bent on Locating an Invading Armada of 78 Ships.

Newport, R. I., May 17 (AP).—Southern New England "went to war" at 12:01 a. m., eastern standard time, today.

At that hour a defending "blue" fleet of 16 destroyers steamed out of Narragansett Bay bent on locating an invading (black) armada of 78 ships which has 5 days in which to land a theoretical force of 75,000 men between Chatham, Mass., and the mouth of Connecticut river—the technical start of an enemy drive to seize industrially rich New England and the all-important port of New York.

The blue fleet will steam straight off shore at a 10-knot speed, according to word from intelligence headquarters here early today, drawing a cordon of ships across the stretch of coast line to be protected. The fleet will turn back 150 miles out if the black ships have not been sighted, and by night fall the cordon will have been drawn inward again to prevent any outflanking movement on the part of the enemy.

The blue ships will make no attempt to engage the more powerful blacks at sea. Its object will be to keep the land defenses, under command of Major General Preston Brown, posted on the enemy movements, that his force of 75,000 troops may be concentrated quickly at any threatened landing point.

Skeletonized infantry, anti-aircraft, signal and other units are scattered along the entire "war zone" coastline intent on giving the alarm should the blacks succeed in slipping through the blue fleet, while four army divisions stand ready for instant mobilization—the 26th at Camp Devens, the 76th at Hartford, Conn., the 97th at Putnam, Conn., and the 94th at Taunton.

Powerful searchlights, sound detectors and a small force of naval seaplanes constitute the remainder of the blue's equipment for detecting the approach of the black forces. The planes will take the air during the day to augment the sea patrol and give warning of the numerous feints at the shore line which are expected from Rear Admiral Hughes's powerful invading fleet.

Training in the use of new armament and an attempt to determine whether the army or navy has the major responsibility in preventing the landing of a hostile force, will be two of the biggest purposes of the joint maneuvers, General Brown has explained.

Arranging for Memorial Day

Meeting Held at Kingston High School Monday Afternoon When Plans Were Made—Celebration to Be About Same as Last Year.

Monday afternoon representatives of the various patriotic organizations and the public schools met with Dr. M. J. Michael, superintendent of schools, and discussed plans for the observance of Memorial Day in Kingston on May 30. Dr. Michael was elected clerk of the celebration committee.

From the plans discussed at the meeting Monday the celebration this year will take the same form as that in previous years, with the school children and veterans of the wars marching to the city cemeteries and decorating the graves of the soldiers and sailors who served the country in time of war. It is also expected that patriotic addresses will be delivered at the various cemeteries by prominent speakers.

Further Delay of Planes Is Caused By Bad Weather

Indications Are That Start Will Not Be Made Before Thursday—Break Threatens To Eliminate "Columbia" and "America" Given Weight Lifting Test.

New York, May 17 (AP).—An open break between Lloyd Bertaud, navigator of the Bellanca monoplane, "Columbia," and Charles A. Levine, chief backer of its proposed trans-Atlantic flight, threatened today to eliminate the plane from the tri-cornered race to Paris.

Bertaud's lawyer, Clarence W. Nutt, issued a statement charging Levine with deliberately delaying the take-off of the Columbia in order to allow Commander Richard E. Byrd's Fokker monoplane, "America," and Captain Charles E. Lindbergh's Ryan monoplane, "Spirit of St. Louis," to get away first. This, he asserted, would provide an excuse for cancellation of the Bellanca's flight.

Meanwhile, continued unfavorable weather caused further postponement of the contemplated flights. Indications were that none of the contenders would attempt to hop-off before Thursday and by that time it was thought Byrd will have completed his load tests and be ready for the start to Paris.

Disension Was Brewing.

Disension among the ranks of the Bellanca entry has been brewing for several days. The original contract between Bertaud and Clarence Chamberlin, the pilot, and the Columbia Aircraft Corporation, owners of the plane, provided that the prize money, estimated at $100,000, be divided equally between the fliers and the company and that the airmen agree to remain in the employ of the company one year after the Paris flight should it prove successful.

Friends of the fliers voiced objections to the proposed division of the prize money and the airmen themselves insisted some financial arrangement be made for their wives. Bertaud also objected to the one year contract clause as he is on leave from the mail service. Chamberlin is regularly employed by the Columbia company.

Oral Agreement Reached.

During a conference Sunday, an oral agreement was reached under which the fliers were to receive the full prize money, their wives were to be given financial protection and the one-year contract was to be waived.

This oral agreement was placed in writing, but Nutt charged a paragraph had been inserted reserving to Levine the rights to withdraw from the flight project or to remove one or both of the fliers, with compensation of four weeks' expenses. The contract was not signed. Nutt announced he was prepared to start suit to compel carrying out the terms of the alleged oral agreement.

Another point of dispute was the radio equipment the plane should carry. After the probable disaster of the Nungesser flight a powerful radio set was installed on the Columbia.

Levine, however, declared the weight of the radio generator impaired the efficiency of the plane and over the protests of Bertaud it was removed. A smaller emergency set was installed. G. M. Bellanca, designer of the plane, supported Levine in the controversy.

Weight Lifting Test.

Rosevelt Field, L. I., May 17 (AP).—The big three motored Fokker monoplane "America" was given a weight lifting test today that was deemed by the fliers as "most satisfactory." The "America" flew off with Bert Acosta, and Lieutenant Norville and Balchen, carrying 11,350 pounds of water and sand. Later another flight was made with 13,280 pounds.

The monoplane, which will be flown by Commander Richard E. Byrd, will attempt the crossing of the Atlantic with a load of 14,207 pounds.

Hunt for French Airmen Goes On

Black Shores of Newfoundland Continue To Be Combed—Remaining Hope Is That They Were Picked Up By Fishermen.

New York, May 17 (AP).—After a week of search, hope and false reports, the world today knows as much of the fate that has befallen Captain Charles Nungesser and Francois Coll as it did Monday a week ago when the intrepid French aviators failed to reach New York on their non-stop flight from Paris.

But the search goes on. The black shores of Newfoundland continue to be combed for some trace of the Nungesser plane in response to several reports that sounds of an airplane were heard over parts of the island on that foggy Monday morning, but so far no definite word has come from any of the coastal villages. However vain the search has been to date, it will be continued until every bay and cove of the island has been visited.

The principal remaining hope, however, was that the White Bird was forced to descend off the Grand Banks and that Nungesser and Coll were picked up by some fishing vessel. In such an event it would be a matter of days before any word could be received. Any vessel that may have rescued the fliers, it is believed, would not return to port until its fishing work had been completed.

From London came a report that for a time tended to change the entire complexion of the mystery, telling that a German steamer had found an airplane, believed to be French, in the North Sea. The Havas News Agency later announced that the committee which backed the Nungesser flight stated that markings on the plane found in the North Sea were not those of the White Bird.

From Paris also has come an announcement that the International League of Aviators had voted to erect a monument in memory of Nungesser and Coll. The monument will be placed on the cliffs above the town of Biret, over which the plane flew as it left French soil and started across the Atlantic.

De Pinedo Off For Montreal

Chicago, May 17 (AP).—Commander Francesco de Pinedo, the Italian four-continent flier, took off today for Montreal. His plane, the Santa Maria II, arose from Lake Michigan after one attempt had been balked by choppy seas.

Unless the Italian aviator, who already has flown 40,000 miles, is forced down en route on this side of the international line, he has made his last stop in the United States. His tentative plans called for continuous flight to Montreal today, with arrival there scheduled for 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Stop at Buffalo was a possibility if weather conditions necessitated. Many "vivas" and "bravas" followed the flier as his plane rose from the lake. Hundreds of Commander de Pinedo's countrymen had set their alarm clocks ahead to be ready as the sun came out of the lake so that they might attend the departure.

An attempt to take off yesterday was abandoned when a lake swell rolled over the Santa Maria's motor, putting one cylinder temporarily out of commission.

New York State May Crop Report

The weather during April was not far from average as to temperature, averaging about 0.6 degrees below normal, and about .5 inch of rainfall below normal. The western, northern, eastern, and southeastern districts suffered the most from deficiency of rainfall, although some localities had enough rain to retard work on the land. Conditions were quite favorable for the progress of spring field work. The sub-normal temperatures had a protective influence on fruit buds which were in danger of advancing too fast under the stimulus of the warm weather prevailing in March, although frosts late in April are reported to have done damage locally to peach buds in the Hudson Valley, and to grape buds in scattered sections of the Chautauque-Erie grape belt. Frequent frosts were apparently detrimental to clover and grass in some sections.

Crop forecasts: Crop forecasts indicate the prospective production of a crop, assuming average conditions to the end of the season. If the balance of the season is more or less favorable than the average, the forecast may be expected to change. Hence, early forecasts are more subject to change than those made later in the season. Many of the crops grown in New York are subjected to competition from other states and it should be constantly borne in mind that at the time the season is nicely started in New York, the growing season is well along in many states. Thus, while it is too early for a satisfactory forecast of wheat production in New York, harvest will soon be starting in Texas and other southwestern states and the crop of the United States can be estimated quite accurately. Crop reports will be most useful to those keeping national conditions, as well as state and local conditions in mind. The forecasts are based on "condition" reports from crop reporters, interpreted on the basis of the relation of these reports to final output of the crop over a long series of earlier years.

Winter Wheat: The abandonment of winter wheat in New York this spring is only nominal, estimated at 2.5 per cent of the acreage sown last fall. The growing condition of 88 per cent is much better than last May and although somewhat early for a forecast, the indicated yield is 20 bu. per acre compared with the final yield of 17.5 bu. last season, forecasting a crop of 5,793,000 bushels on the 290,000 acres to be harvested, compared with 4,723,900 bushels last year. For the entire United States, the abandonment has been 8.4 per cent of the acreage sown. Growing conditions have been good and the crop is forecast at 593,740,000 bushels which is 5.3 per cent less than last year's crop of 626,929,000 bushels and 3.6 per cent greater than average.

Rye: The condition of rye, 88 per cent, indicates a production of 16.2 bushels per acre, which on the 25,000 acres grown for harvest indicates a production of 405,000 bushels in New York, compared with 424,000 bushels last year. The United States crop is forecast at 57,861,000 bushels compared with 40,024,000 bushels in 1926.

Hay: Dry weather in the eastern part of the state has not been favorable for meadows and in some of the central and western sections frequent frosts appeared to injure clover to some extent. The cool weather retarded grass somewhat, but it appears to be further advanced than last year. The average condition of 86 per cent is above the May 1 condition of 82 per cent last year, but below the 93 per cent in 1925 and the 10-year average of 90 per cent.

Hay on farms May 1. The quantity of hay remaining on farms May 1 was estimated as equivalent to 11 per cent of the previous year's crop, compared with 11 per cent a year ago and 17 per cent two years ago.

Hay on farms May 1.

New York, tons	United States, tons
May 1, 1927 712,000	10,522,000
May 1, 1926 756,000	11,481,000
May 1, 1925 1,250,000	12,587,000

With a decreased production of hay the past two seasons, the burden some surplus which had accumulated in the spring of 1925 is being worked off, both in New York and the United States.

Pastures: May 1 is too early to turn cattle on pastures in most parts of New York even in an early season. The May 1 condition of 85 per cent indicated an advanced stage of growth compared with 71 last year and is above the 10 year average of 83 but is below the 90 per cent in 1925.

The United States pasture condition is 87.0 per cent compared with 74.8 last spring and 86.8 in 1925.

Maple Production—New York and four New England states tap about 70 per cent of the maple trees and produce 60 per cent of the maple syrup and 85 per cent of the maple sugar made in the United States.

The 1927 season in New York was unusual for the higher than average temperatures and the lack of snow and rain during the producing season. The average date of first tapping was March 12 this year, or 18 days earlier than March 30, a year ago. The last run was finished April 10 on the average, 13 days earlier than last year. Runs were generally good and of high quality in St. Lawrence, Jefferson, Lewis and some of the central counties. Elsewhere they were more variable, both in quantity and quality. Approximately 14 per cent of the syrup in New York was intended for home use, 61 per cent for sale in gallon cans and 25 per cent in bulk or drums. Of the sugar, about 27 per cent was for home use and 73 per cent for sale. The New York state average prices to producers of maple products covered a fairly wide range of prices with many local variations depending on the opportunities for retail selling, local demand, etc.

Prices to producers in New England are somewhat lower than last season.

Milk Production—With an earlier spring than a year ago, production on farms of crop reporters showed both the usual seasonal increase and an increase above May 1 a year ago. Pasture is not far enough advanced to be much of a factor.

Egg Production—This has continued at a good rate, stimulated by excellent weather.

With only 38 per cent of those reporting on poultry having any spring hatched chicks on hand, there were 94 chicks on hand for each 100 mature hens and pullets, for the state as a whole. The figures will be more representative June 1st after the bulk of hatching is completed. Comparable figures for earlier years are not available.

Farm Labor Supply and Demand—With the favorable weather that has prevailed for spring work, and the opening of highway construction, building and other outside work, the supply of available farm labor has decreased to 83 per cent of normal the situation is about the same as during the past three years. The demand, at 85 per cent of normal is also about the same as during the past three years. With the high wage rates prevailing, and the relatively poor returns from farming for several successive years, there is a strong inclination to get along with as little hired labor as possible even where it can be found. The result of this shows first in the neglect of upkeep of improvements to buildings, drainage, fences, etc. rather than in curtailment of actual farm operations.

highest plane of Cameron Mazda, near Shamokin. The trip for a mile and a quarter was a constant upgrade, averaging 15% in many places. The roadway being rocky, made the climb tortuous but the Erskine Six negotiated the entire distance in high gear.

Further evidence of the acceptance of American made cars on the continent comes with the news that André Citroën, the foremost French automobile manufacturer, has recently purchased a Packard Eight for his personal use. Citroën, producing what is known as the 12-24 h.p. 4-seater with a Dickey, a very popular small car in Britain and the continent, selling for 190 pounds, is familiarly known as the Ford of France.

Each succeeding month's sales indicates that 1927 is to be a bumper year for the automobile industry. In March Chrysler shipments were 65% greater than those in February—a gain more than double that of the March business of the industry over February, which was 30%. This gain is attributed by Chrysler officials to the wide appeal of the organization's new 1927 models, which were first displayed at the New York show early in January. Again in April, Chrysler set a sales pace that the industry will do well to match. For April Chrysler shipments were 22% greater than March, previous record month this year; and 25% greater than those in April, 1926.

Spurred on by the greatest demand in its history, Chevrolet in April again set up a new production record with a total output for the month of 311,917 units. This exceeds by 4,027 units the best previous monthly performance in the history of the company and establishes an all-time record for the monthly production of four-wheel cars. Equally as spectacular as the remarkable monthly production feat and dividing the spotlight with it was the mark established April 22, when in the short space of a day's working hours, the factories built 3,347 Chevrolet cars and trucks. This was 272 units in excess of the best previous day's record.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 17, 1927.

The late William J. Bryan is said to have displayed a marked sense of humor in private life. It is related that in 1903, after his third defeat for the Presidency he was fond of telling at his own expense the story of a tipsy man who tried to force his way into a club house. The first time the intruder was pushed gently away by the doorman. The second time he got inside the door but was ejected again. The third time he succeeded in reaching the top of the stairway, but was then violently thrown down and out into the street. Getting upon his feet, he brushed off the dust and said: "I am on to those people. They don't want me in there."

One of the chief benefits the farmer derives from really good roads is that of being able to move his farm products to market over them quickly, cheaply and without inconvenience. The farmer's crops are his stock in trade. If he can market them without delay when the price is up, he is the gainer; if, because of bad roads, he is unable to get his products to market until after the price has declined, he loses. In the old days when roads were good only in good weather, the farmer could do little satisfactory marketing. He was forced to take a chance on getting his products to the buyer on a rising market. One decided advantage in good roads is that they encourage the use of motor vehicles by the farmer, effecting a saving in time and worry in moving his crops, and in getting his family to church and children to school. Good roads are probably next in importance to newspapers in unifying the people.

THE MOON'S "ERROR"

Shakespeare characterized the moon as "an arrant thief" because all of her "pale fire she snatches from the sun." That is good poetry with ample basis in fact. It is another matter when a serious scientific writer in a London newspaper complains of the moon for disobeying Newton's law of gravitation—if for no other reason because the moon was there quite some time before Newton's day and ought to know pretty well what she is about. It is objected that there are always "inexplicable discrepancies" between the moon's calculated position and that which she actually occupies when she causes an eclipse of the sun. The writer surmises that some "unknown force" induces the moon to misbehave and fail to live up to Greenwich mathematical computations, yet he brings against her the charge of "erratic movement," the possibility that the said mathematical computations may be at fault, instead of the moon, apparently not occurring to him.

There is, however, the charitable admission that the moon's "error," or misbehavior, is not serious enough to be considered very reprehensible. She merely strays about a mile out of the track the mathematicians have marked out for her, which can hardly be described as criminal. The difficulty is that mathematics is an exact science and its professors naturally would like to require harmonious exactness on the part of the moon. It seems that "Professor Brown, an American mathematician," has accomplished wonders in the direction of "corrective effort," but even he has failed wholly to correct the moon's error. The bright lady of the night skirts so seriously on her way, not knowing and probably not even caring to know that she has "strayed" earthily mathematicians and thus won their disapproval.

FLOOD VICTIMS' NAMES.

It appears that there is some comedy as well as much tragedy on or near the banks of the overflowing Minniedunk. Neither the nor flood, earthquake nor tornado, can halt nature's processes, and intermingled with the multitude of victims are many who are suffering from the effects of the flood. There are numerous very small and very recent arrivals which call loudly for contributions as well as assistance and sympathy. Names are needed as well as money. Send clothing, bread, short skirts and other "necessaries." The Associated Press reports that two tiny newcomers of duky complexion have been christened Highwater Jones and Overflow Johnson, but the need of many more names appropriate to and in memory of the long-to-be-looked-back-on scene is pressing. In response to the acknowledged urgency, the New York World attempts to rise to the occasion by suggesting the following names for consideration:

Flood Emory, Inundation, Washington, River Pearl Bush, Mississippi Overton, High Tide Lincoln, Floating Jackson, Water Lily Butler, Swimmer Coddage, Noah Garrison, Mudcat London, and Gertrude Ederle Loman.

Several of these are adequately picturesque and sufficiently commemorative, but they are only eleven in all and far from enough to go round. No doubt dusky parents of the flooded area, to whose problems the need of suitable names has been added overnight, will welcome helpful suggestions from other quarters.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.
 (Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

THE FUTURE GENERAL PRACTITIONER.

From time to time we read that the old family physician, the general practitioner, is passing away, and that there will soon be nothing left but specialists.

Our joke columns often comment on this, and tell of the patient who consulted an eye specialist, but as it was his left eye that was affected, he was referred to another doctor, as this particular specialist treated the right only.

Now it would be a step backward if we did not have physicians who spent practically their whole time on special parts of the body. There is no question but that as they examine and treat the stomach, the heart, the lungs, or other special part, that their knowledge must greatly increase.

Particularly is this so, if they have had a good grounding in physiology, that is the workings of the body in health, and also in pathology which is the workings of the body in ill health.

This is the reason that the general practitioner who has been meeting all kinds of ailments for years, and who later confines himself to one special line, is usually more successful in getting helpful practical results, than the young graduate who goes immediately into special work.

However, what about the general practitioner of the future? As a matter of fact he is likely to become a bigger man in the profession in the years to come for two reasons.

In the first place, the time will come when every member of the community will be given a complete physical examination every year. This will be done by the general practitioner who is equipped to make a complete examination, including eyes, ears, nose, throat, and so forth.

Second, it will rest with this general practitioner just what further step is necessary after an examination. The pain or disability complained of, may mean sending the patient to the eye specialist, the ear, nose and throat specialist, the dentist, or elsewhere.

And the report from one, or even two of those specialists, comes back to the general practitioner and he decides the next step if any. You can thus see that the general practitioner of the future is the general, or general officer commanding. The specialists are like the engineers, the medical corps, the dental corps and other branches of the service, whose special knowledge he makes use of, but his is the directing mind.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—Isabel Mac Donald couldn't stand society life. "I'm not made that way," she explained. And Ramsay Mac Donald, referring to Anglo-American relations, says that smart flashiness, jazz dancing and high society ignorance are erroneously taken on both sides as representative.

New Haven—Leon A. Tullin, 26, assistant professor at the Yale law school, is to marry a pupil, Miss Justine Wise, daughter of Rabbi Wise of New York.

New York—Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt is engaged to sail back to Paris three weeks hence. Arriving on the Leviathan she stamped one foot in adding: "I am not contemplating matrimony." The denial was in reference to rumors about her and Prince Hohenlohe of Germany.

Washington, Pa.—Having spent six months in jail for his failure to pay 70 cents in taxes, Charles Ford, 54, is free. Sympathizers contributed $12.45 from which tax and costs were paid to the city of Monongahela.

Andorra—If this republic in the Pyrenees should adopt an income tax presumably it might compel its best known son to pay its annual tribute to the president of France and the bishop of Urgel, Spain. The republic has just sent them about $56 for the 649th time. Paulino will have to pay Uncle Sam more than $56 before he comes home from his quest of pugilistic honors.

AMERICAN LEGION DAY AT WEST POINT.

It is expected that every Legion Post in New York state will have representatives here on that day to honor their national commander. Colonel Savage will address the legionnaires after the review. Following this address the visitors will be guests at the various cadet athletic games which will include contests in baseball, lacrosse, track, golf, tennis, rifle and pistol. General Stewart in his invitation announced that the legionnaires would be most welcome either in civilian clothes or in uniform.

Spring Cleaning and Moving Uncover a Dozen and One Furniture Needs

When one is rearranging her furniture either because she has moved into a new home or as the result of Spring housecleaning the need of new furnishings becomes most evident. In new quarters there are often odd corners to be furnished and frequently old rugs don't fit and old draperies must be shifted around. If one doesn't move, the urge to give old surroundings a new look is very strong and always necessitates a few furniture purchases. Remember though, that every home furnishing need can be met here.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

A VISIT AND CLOCK

"We've had so much pleasure ourselves lately," said Uncle John one afternoon about a week later, "and so many adventures, that I suggest we give some one else a little fun—or maybe a few others."

"Goodie!" said Dorothy. And Douglas said:

"Sure! It would be fine to entertain some one else with our toys or perhaps stories of our adventures."

"I'm sure," said Uncle John delightedly, "that both ideas will work out to perfection."

They started off after a little while, for at first the children tried to carry more toys, than they possibly could, and they hated to give any of them up.

At last they reached a corner where there was a flower shop.

"We shall get some flowers," said Uncle John, "and we shall get very bright, gay ones, too!"

They had one more bundle to carry, but they were at the building where Uncle John told them the children were.

"They are all sick—every one of them," said Uncle John.

When they got inside and saw the rows and rows of beds with little children—so many of just about the same ages as they were, too—they felt very sad.

But, after they began to talk to the children, and saw how cheery and happy they were, Douglas and Dorothy felt quite differently.

Uncle John gave every child a flower. He did not put all the flowers in a far corner of the room, but every little sick person had his or her own flower to look at and smell and then to put in water by her side.

Douglas and Dorothy went around to the different beds. They gave the children the toys they had brought, and how much those toys did help the painful legs and arms and backs!

Then they told the children of the adventures they had had and of the wonders which they had never seen before.

"Are there no grown-ups in this hospital?" asked Dorothy.

"No," said one of the children, "there are just sick children here. And though we are sick, it's much nicer to have others around us of our own age and have all the sick people children we can talk to."

"What a happy afternoon we had, too," said Douglas.

And Uncle John told Douglas and Dorothy that the parents of these children did not have to worry about doctors' and nurses' bills, for this was a free hospital where their children could get well.

When evening came Uncle John said:

"Our day is not over, for we are going to see the wonderful Metropolitan clock, which, as you know, is three stories in height, lighted up."

"Oh, how fine!" exclaimed Douglas.

"I've never yet recovered from the shock of realizing that that clock did take up three floors of the building as far as its height went," Dorothy said.

"I've never even seen a small clock lighted!" Douglas said. "I can't for the life of me imagine what it will be like."

They got out of the subway that evening and walked over to Madison Square park. They stood then before the great Metropolitan tower and looked up at the clock, which was lighted up, while flashlights marked the hours in the evening for those far away.

Just then a red flash was seen.

"That means it is a quarter before the hour. We shall stay here for an hour," said Uncle John, "and see all that happens."

Then when the hour was to be signaled, four red flashes came—for it was an even hour—and after that a number of white flashes followed. At half-past eight Douglas and Dorothy saw two red flashes and at quarter of nine three flashes.

"It's just like a great Fourth of July celebration, I think," said Douglas.

"And to think that all this fun and beauty is just for a clock. Sometimes at home we forget to wind up the clock and it stops for several days."

"This clock never stops," said Uncle John, "and it is lighted up so many can see it—nearly and far off—for in the city there is so much to do—so much to see—that we mustn't get behind the time. We must keep up with the clock, eh? And oh, there are so many who love and enjoy the clock and its beautiful time when it strikes."

Firestone Dealers

Have Purchased 100% More GUM-DIPPED TIRES

[This Year Compared With Same Period Last Year]

THE demand from car owners for Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires has given Firestone Dealers a large increase in volume that enables them to sell these tires to you at the lowest prices in the history of the industry.

On the cars of motorists everywhere, in the every-day service of the largest truck and bus operators, these wonderful tires are delivering unheard-of long mileage together with greater safety and comfort.

The Firestone Balloon Tread, scientifically designed three years ago, and unchanged today, follows the contour of the tire carcass with no excess rubber at the edges to cause "shoulder breaks". Narrow rider strips permit the tread to yield to depressions and cling to the road, preventing skidding. This tough, pliable tread has the wear-resisting qualities that give thousands of extra miles of service.

The tread, however, is not the only important part of the balloon tire. It must be placed on a carcass that has the qualifications to withstand the terrific flexing that this design permits. The Firestone carcass is made of cords dipped in a rubber solution which not only saturates and insulates every fiber of every cord, but unifies sidewalls with carcass, eliminating any possibility of separation under the extreme flexing of low-pressure tires.

Many Firestone Dealers are prepared to take your old tires, offering you a liberal allowance on a new set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires to start the motoring season.

To meet a demand for a low price tire and tube, Firestone designed and manufactures, for Firestone Dealers only, Oldfield Tires and Tubes, which carry the Standard Manufacturers' Guarantee.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Wednesday, May 18.

Prominent speakers and musicians will entertain the members of the National Association of Public School Business Officials at their banquet which will be made public through the microphone of WOO. Nathaniel Shilkret's Orchestra, with Louis Cornell concert pianist, and the Lenox String Quartet will render a group of popular songs in the Maxwell Hour, a big Wednesday night feature of WJZ and the Blue Network. An air version of "The Bohemian Girl," a light opera that is very well known and equally as popular to appreciative vocal lovers will be enacted for the fans of WEAF and Red Network. At the same time the Shannon Quartet with Ed Smalle, popular pianist and comedian, will be heard in a concert composed of light, novelty and comedy numbers. This program will be broadcast by WJZ, WEAF, KOKA and WEHF. "Songs of the Blue Network" will be sung by the Shannon Quartet in a WEAF chain novelty.

Wave lengths in meters on left of station title, kilocycles on the right. Times are Eastern Daylight Saving and Eastern Standard. Black type indicates best features.

Sweaters Also Worn

With Tailored Suits

It is interesting to see how popular the sweater is this season for wear with all sorts of tailored suits. The softer, thinner sweaters are the ones, and they are seen as much with the serge and twill suits as they are with those made from tweeds. They help to make a suit wearable for this present season because they add just so much to its warmth. And besides they are good looking from the standpoint of modern style.

Many girls are deciding to follow the French style and wear with their black or blue tailored suit coats, skirts that are of some contrasting color. These skirts are often plaited and can be of grayish or tan tweed mixtures or of flat tan or gray flannel or suede materials. The black and white checked skirts are very good and large plaids of blue or black and white, made in wrap-around styles are extremely good looking.

A skirt of contrasting material in the above mentioned manner does help most materially to lengthen the life of a suit and to make it a different looking affair from day to day. A coat always has a longer life than a skirt, and the plan of having two skirts has its most practical angles.

Blouses, when blouses are worn, are simple in style, the one with the square neck of hemstitching being by all odds the most popular. It is a blouse designed by Vionnet some seasons past, and it has kept a hold on fashion in a most persistent way.

Black and Pink Mules

Boudoir mules may be decorative as well as useful, as one may see by looking at the smartest mules of black velvet, lined with pink satin and trimmed with silver motifs.

Bees Studied

Three types of bees, the Italian, the Carniolans and the Caucasians, have been placed in 12 bee colonies near Red Deer, Alberta, Canada, with the idea of finding out which type thrives best in that section of Canada. The Dominion has an apiarist for the purpose of fostering bee culture.

French Actress in New Play Wears Interesting New Accessories

Paris.—Probably for the first time there appears on the French stage a heroine who is "la femme indépendante," seeking to carve her own life and make use of men, as men so often make use of women. Madeleine Carlier enacts "La Poupée Française" which is the name of this play for feminists; and she plays the role in Patou clothes, a new sort of robe and some interesting pieces of jewelry.

Mlle. Carlier's hats are from Lewis, two of them, and both the same shape, a helmet or skull cap with a flange that starts at either ear and climbs across the front in Russian effect. As spring advances it becomes increasingly apparent how loath are smart Parisiennes this year to abandon the skull cap or toque style, which has hitherto always been regarded as preeminently a mid-winter fashion; for wear with fur coats and collars.

Large Ball Earrings

Under these toques—one black, one beige—Mlle. Carlier's suburn bob is arranged slick and shining, cut like a man's at back and banged at front to be brushed a little sideways across the forehead, covering it to the eyes, so that her face peeks out like a little boy's from one of those knitted casquettes that small children wear in midwinter. This comparison only extends to the forehead, however, for the ears are uncovered and the actress wears the large ball earrings that seem to be meeting with a revival here and there in the French capital.

With her evening costume Mlle. Carlier wore the conventional ropes of pearls and bracelets that one always sees, but in addition, her white gown was relieved by one of those large pendants of aqua-marine set in brilliants that Patou showed at his opening. With her daytime clothes the tendency of her jewelry was modern; at one wrist was a gold bracelet with square links so huge that only four were necessary to encircle the wrist; and about her neck was a string of green beads nearly to the waist from which hung a round flat motif of black onyx that looked like a vanity case. ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

The Coat of the Ensemble Has Been Shortened to Permit a Glimpse of the Gown Beneath—Skirts Do Extraordinary Things, But Remain Short

New York.—The ensemble has become so essential in good dressing that one may almost be forgiven for harping continually on the subject of its importance. It appears, however, that many are quick to follow Premet's lead in changing the length of the coat. It is becoming more and more customary to find the dress peeping out from under, for the acceptance of the seven-eighths coat is now assured.

Coats, for that matter, are even as short as three-quarter length, we are speaking now, not of the coat of the tailor, but the coat of the ensemble, or the top coat. Smart though the shorter coat is, it entails a greater responsibility concerning the dress beneath. Obviously, it must be related to the coat, its hem-lines must agree, even in irregularity.

Reboux Slip-Over Wrap of Metallic Cloth with Rateau Shaped Head Opening, Which is a Great Aid in Retaining the Wrap Around the Shoulders and Differentiates It from Those of Last Season.

The irregular hem, incidentally, continues to be highly approved, and no wonder. It certainly has a slenderizing and grace-giving quality, whether the line dips down or is raised. Many skirts have drapery, or some fulness at the front, while one meets delightful contradictions in skirts that drape at the side, or are flat. It seems not to matter what is done to a skirt, so long as it is kept short, and snug at the hip-line.

Designers have made a half-hearted attempt to lengthen skirts, but with little result, except for the robe de style, a charming exception. Lanvin and, if memory serves, Poiret have attempted to revive the square and culotte skirt, but these are extremes to which not many of us care to go.

First Iron Bridge

The first iron bridge in the world was iron bridge, in Shropshire, England, which spans the River Severn. The work was put in by hand and the various parts cast in 1778 at the Coalbrookdale ironworks, the proprietor of which, Abraham Darby, was the designer of the structure. Approximately 500 tons of iron were used in the construction of the bridge. All the castings are keyed together, no welding or screws having been used. The roadway, which is 24 feet wide, has an iron foundation, upon which is laid a few inches of clay, which in its turn is covered by the usual road metal forming the surface. The main arch has a span of 100 feet.

SPRING GREENS

One need not be confined to the cultivated greens for food for the table, there are many kinds of wild ones—considered weeds—which make most tasty dishes. Marsh marigold or cowslip before blossoming is a very good green. If cut and kept from blooming it will be good for weeks. Burdock and ragweed stripped and peeled can be eaten fresh or cooked in butter, and served as one does asparagus. The milk weed when gathered early and cooked is much like asparagus when served. Watercress served with a French dressing is always a welcome vegetable.

Wild mustard if cut up and served when tender with lettuce makes a most acceptable salad, using any desired dressing. Lamb's-quarters, purslane, false Solomon's seal and poke in the South are all good when cooked and served.

All greens should be carefully washed over and washed in cold water, and then in vinegar. The common dandelion is very young, if cut up with onion and served with a French dressing makes a most wholesome salad.

And a handful of cooked greens well seasoned is a dish which most people enjoy.

Dandelion Salad.—Take one-half pound of fresh, crisp, blanched dandelion leaves, cut into small pieces, add one-half of a raw grated carrot, three small green onions minced, one cupful of cubed cucumber. Add French dressing and when ready to serve sprinkle with one-half cupful of grated cheese.

Combination Green and Fruit Salad.—Take one-half pound of watercress, one orange, two tart apples diced, one-third of a cupful of walnut meats, and serve with French dressing. Make nests of the fresh, well washed and drained greens, heap on the diced fruit, cover with dressing and sprinkle with the nuts.

Hot Greens on Toast.—Take one pint of cooked greens, one tablespoonful of onion (grated), two tablespoonfuls of horseradish, salt, pepper and one-fourth cupful of sour cream. Crush cooked bacon and serve on top of greens with chopped, minced pickle.

The tender bran of the oat adds extra value to this nourishing food

Children are gloriously well when their special needs are met with simple foods. A bowl of Quick Mother's Oats with milk is one of the "growth foods" now considered so important.

Often cereals lose much of their natural value through being too highly refined. Children especially need the tender bran so it is found in Quick Mother's Oats, and that is one reason child health specialists approve it so highly.

A bowl of Quick Mother's Oats and milk is rich, too, in vitamins and minerals indispensable for sound, normal growth. And a cup of such a day supplies 25% of the tissue-building protein a growing child must have. And how children love the sweet whole-grain flavor!

For many years the careful millers of Quick Mother's Oats have studied ways of milling to keep this flavor—and to make a fine, even meal that cooks up always the way you like it—smooth and tender. So that mothers who realize the importance of oatmeal as a "growth food" find in this 50-year-old brand a quality they can always trust.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes). Both with coupons interchangeable with Aunt Jennie coupons, for lovely linens, curtains, jewelry.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

That duel of champions—between the winners of the world crown in 1925 and 1926—was on today in the National League with the St. Louis Cardinals again in second place and the Pirates back in third. The Giants still led the parade as New York retained its monopoly on the front rank of both leagues.

The Cards renewed their bid to repeat the little triumph of last year by knocking off the Phillies, 2 to 1, while the Pirates were losing to the Brooklyn Robins, 9 to 5. One was a pitchers' battle, the other a slugging match.

The best the Phils could do against Jess Haines' slants was seven hits, while the Cards could get only eight from Alex Ferguson but bunched them better.

The Pirates met the defeat that cost them second place in a game of an entirely different type. They slammed Jess Petty for 13 hits and the Robins countered with 11 of their own, most of which were off Yde in the first three innings.

As the Buccaneers dropped back in the ranking column, the lowly Robins went up at their expense, taking third place above the recumbent Reds and Braves.

In the American League all three of the leaders won their latest games and widened the gap between themselves and the ruck.

New York stayed well out ahead of the field by beating a strong Detroit team, 6 to 2, to the rollicking tune of "Columbia Lou." Gehrig's bat, Gehrig made two doubles and a homer.

The clash of the red hose and the white was featured by the pitching of Ted Lyons who thereby won his fifth victory of the season for the Chicago club, 5 to 4.

Four home runs helped the Athletics to their 10 to 8 decision over the Browns.

KUTY FALLS REPORT

WILSON FEDS. REMAINS EVEN

The Wilbur Feds handed a 12-12 defeat to the Ruby nine on Sunday at the old Wilbur Commons and the teams are now even in the five-game series which is being played. The Feds were in the rear until the eighth inning when they rallied and secured seven runs. McGowan, Feds' catcher, made the only error, about of the game with two on. Schick did well on the mound for the Wilbur team. The battery for the Ruby team was Short and Van Court. On Sunday May 22, the Wilbur Feds will play Goshen at that community.

Jim Bottomley Hits Hard

Jim Bottomley, popular Cardinal warrior, will be here on Sunday, May 22, as the World's Champs appear at the Fair Grounds against the Colonials. Bottomley made the first hit of the game, a husky two-bagger, and also brought in the initial run when the Colonials trimmed the Cards last season in a thirteen-inning contest.

Jim Bottomley, although he missed a few games and amassed a batting figure of but .2855, led the entire National League in total bases garnered from his safeties. He made his 150 hits count for 305 bases, his specialty being blows of the two-base variety. He accounted for forty of the two-baggers slammed out during the year in John Heydler's circuit.

No. 7 Submerges School No. 1 Team

In the Grammar School League baseball game Monday the School No. 7 administered a crushing defeat over No. 1. The score was 22 to 1. When No. 7 was not hitting the ball, No. 1 was making errors. The winning nine batted out twenty-three safeties. No. 1 had twelve errors checked against them. DeCrette again hurled tight ball, allowing only two hits.

CLERMONT A. C. DRUBS BLACK PANTHERS, 13-1

Sunday afternoon at Hasbrouck Park the Clermont A. C. handed the Black Panther team a trimming by the score of 13-1.

The Clermont team scored at will and the opposition offered little in the run-scoring.

Britt and Scully pitched for the losers, both pitchers being hit hard and often. Each Clermont batter knocked out at least one safety.

Matheia, hurling for the Clermonts, was in rare form and allowed but one hit. He struck out 13.

Great Interest in Football Reforms

New York, May 17 (P).—Yale's moves to abolish scouting of football opponents and to assure neutrality of referees brought the gridiron game into unusual pre-season prominence today.

With the game already changed by sweeping revisions in the rules since last fall, its followers looked forward with interest to the coming season when the Yale reforms and innovations are to go into effect.

Most attention centered on the Ell agreement with its 1927 schedule mates to abandon the practice of scouting, one of the most firmly rooted "inside" features of the game. Consent of Yale's opponents—Bowdoin, Georgia, Brown, Army, Dartmouth, Maryland, Princeton, and Harvard—assured a fair trial for the non-scouting principle. The University of Rochester also intends to try it. Tad Jones, head coach at Yale, has long been opposed to scouting and last year entered an engagement with Bill Roper of Princeton not to scout each other's teams.

"The practice of securing expert reports on the play and players of opposing teams has rapidly developed into a formal and expensive system," says the Yale manifesto which declares scouting "contrary to the best interests and spirit of college sport."

NO PRELIMINARY RACES FOR CALLOW'S CREW

Seattle, Wash., May 17 (P).—Coach "Rusty" Callow announced today that the University of Washington crews would have no preliminary races in the east before the national intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie June 28, when Washington will defend the championship.

It had been planned to have a race with Princeton on Lake Carnegie but satisfactory arrangements have not been made. The Washington crews may make a brief stop at Princeton for training purposes however.

A workout is also planned at St. Paul on the Mississippi river. Callow hopes to give his charges ten days of intensive workouts on the Hudson before the regatta.

Dempsey Will Meet Winner

New York, May 17 (P).—The latest shuffle of the heavyweight boxing cards by Tex Rickard, today revealed Jack Dempsey's comeback postponed a month and his first major opponent slated to be the victor in this Thursday's battle between the Boston title aspirants, Jack Sharkey and Jim Maloney.

Dempsey, Rickard disclosed, has rejected a proposal to fight Paulino Uzcudun, the "bouncing Basque," around July 1 because the former champion feels he will not be in condition by that time.

He has agreed, however, to fight the Maloney-Sharkey winner under Rickard's auspices at the Yankee Stadium, probably during the first week in August.

Making this announcement in connection with the testimonial dinner tendered him by the "600 millionaires" of the Madison Square Garden Club, Rickard added that if Dempsey fails to fulfill his present intention to return to the ring, either Maloney or Sharkey will be Gene Tunney's opponent in the next championship match. The title fight probably will be held the last week in September. Its site is yet uncertain, but it is expected to be the Yankee Stadium or the Sesqui-centennial Stadium, Philadelphia.

"Sharkey and Maloney have done all I have asked of them," said Rickard, "they have fought their way up and are entitled to the chance at Dempsey or the titleholder."

The re-casting of Rickard's plans temporarily sidetracks Paulino but may not mean the elimination of the rugged Spaniard altogether. The promoter may match the Basque with Jack Delaney on June 22 at the Yankee Stadium as a second "semi-final," the winner to meet the Sharkey-Maloney survivor by way of determining Dempsey's opponent.

Discontinue Old Signal

Albany, May 17 (Special).—The Public Service Commission Monday approved the application of the Ulster & Delaware Railroad Company to discontinue the use of the standard crossing signs installed at Foxhall avenue crossing over the railroad in Kingston, the railroad company having installed automatic horizontal flashing grade crossing signals at this point.

Art Smith Will Report Sunday

Colonial Twirling Ace Will Be Ready for Action If Called On Sunday When St. Louis Cardinals Appear Here.

Jack Robins, co-manager of the Colonials, received a communication from Art Smith this morning stating that the Colonial twirling ace would be on hand for the St. Louis Cardinals game this coming Sunday at the Fair Grounds. Smith, the last member of the Culliton-Robins combine to join the team, will arrive in Kingston some time Sunday morning. Robins stated that it would not be known until Saturday whether Smith or Culliton will pitch against the World's Champs.

Art Smith, however, will be in condition to take this arduous assignment for he will refrain from any excessive pitching throughout this week. Smith is scheduled to pitch no other games this week. The same lineup as used Sunday will face the Cards with the exception that Dell Middlebrook will cover third in place of Flannery. But Flannery will be on hand also.

Cards Make Reservations.
Bud Culliton was talking with the Cardinals bosses last week and the big leaguers are planning to arrive Sunday morning via the West Shore on the 11:03. Lou Brown has made reservations for the Cardinals at the Governor Clinton where they will dress for the game.

Cincinnati Might Come.
Lou Brown is negotiating with Cincinnati for a game during either June or August. As the Pirates are booked for July 10, Brown is desirous of securing the Cincinnati team for some Sunday in June. If a Sunday date cannot be arranged, the big league club will appear here on August 22 or 24.

The usual price charged for big league games will be charged for Sunday contests with the Cardinals.

Brown has also arranged a series with the D. and H. Generals. It will be a seven-game series.

Benefit Card Party.
The several Hebrew auxiliaries of this city have united and will hold a card party in the Jewish Community Center, Broadway, Wednesday afternoon for the benefit of the inmates of the institution for Detention, Delinquents at Nanpoch. Mrs. Harris Brown has been chosen chairlady of the function and plans to arrange an enjoyable time for all who attend. A cordial welcome is extended to the public. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.
The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. of Kingston will be held on Thursday, May 19 in the parlors of the St. James M. E. Church at 2:30 o'clock. The devotional meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Hurd of Clinton. Reports of the Institute at Ulster Park will be received. The president would be pleased to see a large number present.

Day Line Starts Thursday.
The Hudson River Day Line will open the season on Thursday. The steamer Albany, which has been berthed at Newburgh all winter, has been repainted and overhauled and Monday her supply of life preservers and other effects was put aboard from the storehouse in that city.

BUSINESS NOTICES
Asa G. Wolven of New Salem has certified to the Ulster county clerk that he is conducting a business under the name and style, "Best-What-Is Products Company."

Red Cross Call For Money Urgent

Ulster county's quota for the Red Cross Relief Fund for Mississippi flood sufferers is still short, but it is likely to be reached soon.

The local Red Cross Chapter hopes, however, that contributions will not end when the quota is filled, because there is urgent demand for money with which to carry on the relief work, especially in the districts which have been inundated within the past few days. The extent of the damage and amount of suffering cannot be realized except by those who are in actual charge of the relief work, and their constant appeal for more funds.

CROWDS ATTEND RAY RAYMOND MURDER TRIAL

Los Angeles, May 17 (AP)—Their appetite for sensation whetted by a Japanese houseboy's recital of all night visits of Dorothy Mackaye, actress, to the apartment of Paul Kelly film actor, crowds which daily storm the court room where the husky film man is on trial for the murder of Ray Raymond, actor husband of Miss Mackaye, avidly awaiting more details of the love affair today.

Promise that they would not wait in vain was given at the close of yesterday's session of the trial when prosecution attorneys announced that today's witnesses would include Miss Helen Wilkinson, a friend of Miss Mackaye's who often accompanied her on visits to Kelly's apartment, and Max Wagner, who shared the apartment with the film actor.

Probe Death of Wilfred Irwin

Leonard Cline, Playwright and Novelist, Under Guard in Hospital, Following Fatal Shooting at Cline's Country Home.

Williamantic, Conn., May 17 (AP)—Leonard Cline, playwright and novelist, was under guard in a hospital room here today while state police investigated the mysterious shooting of Wilfred Irwin of New York at Cline's country home at Mansfield yesterday morning. Irwin died last night from a gunshot wound in his side.

Earlier in the night, when physicians became convinced that death was near, blood transfusion was performed in an attempt to save the wounded man's life. Cline giving a pint of his blood.

While Cline was being held, with an officer stationed at his bedside, no charge was made against him. He was being detained at the order of the coroner pending an investigation. Circumstances leading up to the shooting remained unexplained after the affair at Cline's home, which both Cline and Irwin declared was "an accident."

The authorities, it is said, are convinced that Irwin did not shoot himself, and Dr. Edward J. Ottenheimer said last night that the nature of the wound indicated the shot gun was fired at close range and that the wound could not have been self-inflicted.

Before his death, Irwin made a statement to the coroner but its nature was not disclosed. Cline, so far as known, has made no statement regarding his part of the shooting.

Standing Room At Big Concert

The doors of Reade's Kingston Theatre will be opened at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening for all who hold tickets for the Hudson Valley Glee Clubs' concert to be given by the largest collection of male voices ever assembled in this city. The 1,859 seats in the theatre have been purchased and it was necessary for the committee of arrangements to have more tickets printed in order to accommodate all those who are anxious to hear the concert.

The tickets issued lately will be for standing room only but the purchasers will be assured that the concert will be as audible to them as those occupying the seats in the body of the theatre. The standing room tickets will admit the holders to the rear portion of the theatre which is conveniently large enough to hold the number of persons to whom tickets have been sold. The patrons who will occupy the rear of the theatre will be admitted at 8:15 and after this time other admissions will be sold until the section in the rear of the theatre is occupied. If there are any tickets for regular seats returned, they will be sold at the box office in the foyer of the theatre.

The aisles will not be occupied and efficient service will be rendered by the corps of regular theatre ushers augmented by a group under the direction of William G. Newkirk of the Mendelssohn Club. This will facilitate matters for those who hold tickets to find seats.

The clubs who are sponsoring the great concert are anxious for every one to hear it and promise a place to everyone who applies for admission. No one will be turned away.
